Step-2: Brainstorm, Idea Listing and Grouping

1 Define your problem statement

What problem are you trying to solve? Frame your problem as a How Might We statement. This will be the focus of your brainstorm.

🕒 5 minutes

PROBLEM

How might we better understand food ordering behaviour and consumer trends to improve customer experience and business decisions?

Key rules of brainstorming

To run a smooth and productive session

- Stay in topic.
- Defer judgment.
- Go for volume.
- Encourage wild ideas.
- Listen to others.
- If possible, be visual.

2 Brainstorm

Write down any ideas that come to mind that address your problem statement.

🕒 10 minutes

Person 1	Person 2	Person 3	Person 4
Identify popular food ordering apps	Compare veg vs non-veg choices	Analyze impact of discounts and coupons	Analyze age-wise food ordering behaviour
Analyze customer food preferences	Analyze average order value and spending patterns	Examine delivery time and its impact	Identify most ordered food categories
Study peak ordering times	Understand factors affecting repeat orders	Study customer ratings and reviews	Examine payment methods preference
Person 5	Person 6	Person 7	Person 8
Study weekend vs weekday ordering trends	Track seasonal food ordering trends	Analyze late night food ordering patterns	Analyze restaurant performance trends
Identify reasons for cart abandonment	Compare new vs returning customer behaviour	Identify location-based ordering trends	Identify common complaints and issues
Analyze influence of social media & marketing	Evaluate packaging quality impact	Study customer loyalty and retention	Suggest areas for improving customer experience

Step-3: Idea Prioritization

3 Group ideas

Take turns sharing your ideas while clustering similar or related notes as you go. Once all sticky notes have been grouped, give each cluster a sentence-like label. If a cluster is bigger than six sticky notes, try and see if you can break it up into smaller sub-groups.

🕒 20 minutes

TIP

Add customizable tags to sticky notes to create a sense of belonging. Important notes deserve personalized tags as well as ideas you don't like.

Customer Demographics	Food Preferences	Ordering Behaviour	Pricing & Discounts	Delivery Experience
Analyze age-wise food ordering behaviour	Identify most ordered food categories	Study peak ordering times	Analyze impact of discounts and coupons	Examine delivery time and its impact
Identify location-based ordering trends	Compare veg vs non-veg choices	Study weekend vs weekday ordering trends	Analyze average order value and spending patterns	Evaluate packaging quality impact
Compare new vs returning customer behaviour	Analyze customer food preferences	Analyze late night food ordering patterns	Identify reasons for cart abandonment	Study customer ratings and reviews
Customer Satisfaction	Restaurant Performance	Payment Methods	Marketing Influence	Future Improvements
Identify common complaints and issues	Analyze restaurant performance trends	Examine payment methods preference	Analyze influence of social media & marketing	Suggest areas for improving customer experience
Study customer loyalty and retention	Track seasonal food ordering trends
Understand factors affecting repeat orders	Compare new vs returning customer behaviour

4 Prioritize

Your team should all be on the same page about what's important moving forward. Place your ideas on this grid to determine which ideas are most important and which are feasible.

🕒 20 minutes

TIP

Participants can use their name or dots to vote or assign impact levels. Cluster the notes in each area in the top right quadrant are the ones to focus on.

Importance

Reach of these ideas could get one with our customers or directly impact our revenue (or how people feel about us).

Feasibility

Depends on many factors, which risk are we more feasible? (time, talent, budget, tech, skills, complexity, etc.)
